Membership

Membership is open to educators, students, professionals and academic libraries with an interest in computer-aided design. ACADIA has members from all over the world, including members from the United States, Canada, Latin America, Europe, the Middle East, and the Pacific Rim.

In addition to assuring timely access to the latest thinking regarding computer aided design in architecture, membership in ACADIA has a number of other benefits:

- Members pay a reduced conference registration fee.
- Members receive a digital copy of the conference proceedings whether they are able to attend the conference or not.
- Individual members may optionally subscribe at a substantially reduced rate to The International Journal of Architectural Computing (IJAC), a high quality peer-reviewed international journal published by Multiscience.†‡
- Members get online access to 7000+ fully-referenced records of research papers archived in the CUMINCAD database – many contain the full text in PDF format. Libraries can provide up to 3 IP-address ranges (e.g. 123.45.*.*) that allow individual library patrons to create their own username and password when connecting to CUMINCAD from those computers and gain full access. Libraries can use authentication software and virtual networking solutions such as VPN or EZ-Proxy to authenticate their users and allow access from computers outside the IP range.
- Members may subscribe at no additional cost to ArchitectureWeek and Great Buildings Online. ArchitectureWeek can work with libraries to provide IP-based access.
- Members have access to CAMEO, ACADIA's searchable online directory of members and may subscribe to the ACADIA mailing list, giving them email contact with their peers at other institutions.

Rates for members with a mailing address within North America:

- Regular: $100 USD
- Student: $50 USD
- Retired: $70 USD
- Library: $200 USD

Rates for members with a mailing address outside North America:

- Regular: $130 USD
- Student: $80 USD
- Retired: $100 USD
- Library: $300 USD

To join ACADIA, please use the Online Membership Form at <http://www.acadia.org/cameo> or mail the enclosed Membership Application and Renewal Form. Student members must send proof of academic status before membership can be activated. Membership runs from January 1st to December 31st regardless of the membership application date. Membership will be activated for the next calendar year for anyone joining ACADIA after the annual conference (usually in October) and before the end of the year. IP range specification for libraries and access to the CUMINCAD database for all members requires a self-registration process available online after membership activation and login.

† A subscription to IJAC is not an included benefit with ACADIA membership.

‡ Libraries are not eligible for an IJAC reduced subscription rate.
